Governor Minner to Interview with Top-rated T.V. Channel State of Delaware Promotes Nature Tourism Activities

Dover, Del. (July 25, 2007) - Governor Ruth Ann Minner will interview with WHTM-TV abc27 Harrisburg reporter Valerie Pritchett for her highly successful "Getaway Thursday" segment today at 10 a.m. at Milford Neck, a persevered area characterized by miles of undeveloped beaches and dunes, vast tidal marshlands, swamp and upland forests, and a patchwork of agricultural lands. The interview is part of an ongoing effort by the state of Delaware to promote outdoor recreation activities and birding destinations. After the interview, the television crew will also visit Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge, comprised of 16,000 acres laced with wooded trails, freshwater ponds and tidal marsh areas. In spring and fall, the Refuge is a popular rest stop for migrating birds on the Atlantic flyway.

WHTM-TV, an ABC network affiliate, is one of the top-rated Nielson stations in the HLLY (Harrisburg-Lancaster-Lebanon-York) television market. The interview will air during tomorrow's "Getaway Thursday" segment.
